

A pledge of personal opposition to airport expansion

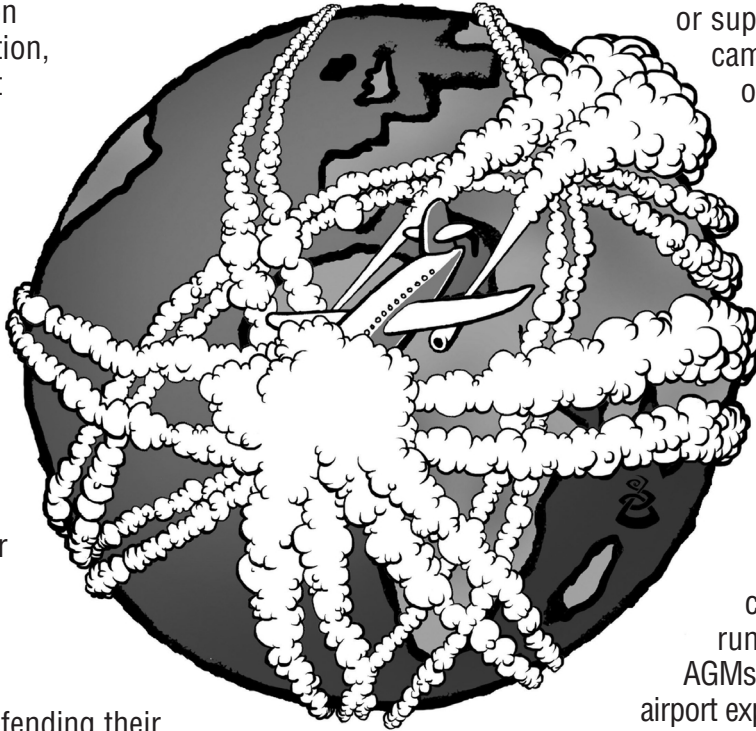

I am strongly opposed to the Government's plans for airport expansion. I agree with the many others opposing this policy:

- * the environmental scientists who warn of the severe impacts of air transport on global climate change and local air quality;
- * the Royal Commission on Environmental Pollution, the Environmental Audit Committee, and the Sustainable Development Commission, which strongly oppose the expansion plans;
- * the many independent organisations, transport experts and respected think-tanks, which make the case for reducing demand and promoting the potential of rail;
- * the local residents defending their houses, lands, and communities.

In the event that the Government chooses to ignore this widespread and well-informed opposition, and refuses to back away from its expansion policy, I will take personal action to block airport expansion and to prevent companies from supporting and funding it.

What is Personal Action?

The action you choose to take is entirely a matter of your personal choice. We will send you updates about campaigns you can support. Your personal action might be:

Local action: setting up or supporting local campaigns, rallies or demonstrations.

National action: taking part in rallies, demonstrations, mass letter-writing or e-mail campaigns.

Political action: voting only for candidates who oppose airport expansion, boycotting companies funding or constructing airports and runways, protesting at the AGMs of companies involved in airport expansion.

Direct action: taking part in non-violent direct action at construction sites and against companies involved in airport expansion.

Supporting others: providing financial or resource support to others involved in the campaign.
